Iowa CareGivers "A Call to Leadership: A Direct Care Professional's Guide to Developing Leadership Skills"

Purpose

To promote the development of personal and professional leadership among those who work in direct care.

What is the Iowa CareGivers Program, "A Call to Leadership?"

This leadership program is a one-day, educational program for direct care professionals. It is taught by staff/consultants of the Iowa CareGivers. Students are asked to think more broadly about leadership outside of the workplace, professionalism, and how to become a spokesperson and role model for the direct care profession.

Who Is Invited to Attend?

All direct care professionals such as Certified Nursing Assistants (CNAs), Certified Medication Aides (CMAs), Home Care or Home Health Aides (HCAs/HHAs), Direct Support Professionals (DSPs), Patient Care Technicians (PCTs), Consumer Directed Attendant Care Workers (CDAC), Universal Workers, and other direct care professionals.

When You Complete the Program, You'll Be Able to:

- Define a professional.
- List three ways to personally contribute to a positive image of the profession of direct care.
- Identify five qualities of successful leaders.
- Discuss ways to be leaders in one's profession.
- Identify barriers to taking a leadership role and list ways to overcome barriers.
- Define advocacy as it applies to the direct care profession and explain why it is important.

On average, 94% of those who complete the Leadership Program, "A Call to Leadership," say it increases the likelihood that they will remain in the field of direct care.

Why YOU Should Attend

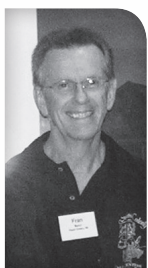

"I led a 'Come Care with Me' event for my legislator at my workplace."

"I was appointed to and co-chaired a State Task Force."

"My story appears on a DVD that has been shown nationally."

"I serve on the State's Direct Care Professional Education Review Committee and I spoke at a public forum."

"I am an ambassador for the Direct Care Workforce Initiative."

"I was a speaker at a public forum on direct care issues."

"I testified before a legislative committee."

"I ran for the city council."

Cost

There is no cost to attend this program. A light lunch will be provided.

Certificate

Certificates of completion will be provided to direct care professionals by Iowa CareGivers.
