THE WORKFORCE CRISIS HAS ARRIVED!

It Is No Longer Just A Skills Gap, But A Care Gap Due To Too Few People To Fill Vacancies

THOSE IMPACTED INCLUDE

not only older Iowans, people with disabilities, and children with special needs but also their family caregivers; the business community when their employees leave employment due to family caregiving responsibilities, and the more than 2500 Iowa health and long-term service and support (LTSS) providers that rely on this workforce.

A CHOSEN CAREER IN DIRECT CARE

"After 22 years, direct care is my career and all I ask is that society accept what I do as a career choice."

Where Her Nursing Journey Began

My six years' experience working as a CNA were filled with valuable experience that have helped me as a registered nurse. Being a CNA taught me patience, people skills, and time management. Working side by side with nurses gave me learning opportunities outside of school. The transition from nursing school to working as a nurse has been a smooth process for me because my years as a CNA gave me a solid foundation to build my nursing career on.
